

I have been shooting commercially for 35 years. I earned a BFA from North Texas State University in 1976, where I majored in printmaking, sculpture and photography. I began my career with Tandy Leather Company shooting products for their catalogs, within a year I was shooting for Jim Crocker at PhotoMedia in Fort Worth, Texas.

In 1989 I opened my own studio, serving clients such as Alcon Laboratories, Justin Boot Co., Haliburton, and many of the Ad Agencies in the DFW metroplex. I worked in all formats from 35 to 8X10 and have been involved in over 150 Advertising Awards.

In 1999 I built a studio on my property in Parker County just north West of Downtown Fort Worth. My work has evolved into digital format along with the rest of the industry. I travel a lot for many different clients producing images for annual reports, asset documentation, Executive portraits, and products on location. I still maintain full studio capabilities and can bring them to you.

I restore classic wooden boats and cars as a hobby and have created multiple show winners. I enjoy photographing landscapes with the ghosts of past towns and buildings. Wherever my travels take me I am always on the lookout for abandoned school houses and the historical remnants of the past.

Contact me and allow my vision to work for you.
